Mystic Mask Wins Silver V-Award

mivision | 1 February 2012

A stunning frame inspired by Italian Opera and crafted with state of the art technologies has claimed the Silver Award at V.Award 2011. The awards program, organised by the uber-cool ready-to-wear publication V Magazine, is the first international eyewear award in the Asia-Pacific Region. Hong Kong based Okia won the award in the Technology Innovation category.

The extraordinary fusion of colour and texture achieved in the Mystic Mask frame demonstrates the creative potential of HDA and BMT technologies which allow ultra-sharp cutting for all patterns and effect an illuminated metallic finish. This state of the art technology also lightens up the design to result in a gorgeous, luminous vitality. Bright and deep colours stand out against the rich black acetate base, drawing immediate attention to the frame and giving it a sense of intrigue.

The sweeping curve of the Mystic Mask fits to the face, accentuating the drama of the frame. For details, visit: www.okia.com.
